

TEAMS NAMED FOR COMMUNITY CAMPAIGN

PLANS MOVING
FOR ARMISTICE
IN SPANISH WAR

No European Power Expected To Object To Proposal

WOULD WITHDRAW
FOREIGN TROOPS

British Government Seeks
To Learn Attitudes
Of Nations

LONDON, May 21.—Proposals for an armistice in the Spanish civil war and for the withdrawal of foreign volunteers moved towards actualization today with authoritative
assurances that no European power
outside Spain will object.

Germany and Italy were said
authoritatively to have been the greatest stumbling blocks to the new plans for restoring peace in embattled Spain, but well-informed diplomatic personages said both
now would join general discussions.

Seeks Information

The British government, through its own ambassadors, has been seeking to learn the attitude of foreign nations on the armistice
for some time. It was reliably disclosed that they have encountered
no refusals for active consideration of the plan.

A special technical committee of the 27-nation "hands off Spain"
group discussed the possibility of withdrawals of foreign troops from the civil war today and pressed the delegates to obtain their governments' flat approval of an armistice.

The Spanish government's efforts
to bring the civil war before the League of Nations, meanwhile, were received coolly in Whitehall. Informed quarters contended that an armistice before the League considerations of the Spanish demands
at Geneva.

The League of Nations councils will meet next week.

Approve British Plan

France, Belgium and the Vatican
were reported today by a usually well-informed source to have approved a British plan to bring about an armistice in Spain and withdrawal of foreign volunteers in the civil war.

Both Catholic and Socialist
sources suggested the Belgian government would be likely to conduct negotiations with both the Spanish government and its foe, Insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

The British plan, it was said,
called for dispatching of international commissions to Spain and until it covered all government and insurgent-held territory, simultaneously disarming and sending home
foreign soldiery.

Plead Not Guilty
To Bailout Charges

IRONTON, May 21.—The five men and one woman charged with bailout tampering and forcing entry
to the board of elections officers
pleaded innocent today and Common Pleas Judge James Collier ordered a joint trial June 21.

All waived reading of the indictments at a short arraignment, during which Wade Webb, one of the six, continued his work in the court room as bailiff.

Miss Elizabeth Griffith, the woman indicted, who reappeared as mysteriously as she disappeared,
posted $500 bond for her release.
Bonds of $500 each for the others,
posted to guarantee their appearance at the arraignment, were continued by Judge Collier.

Face Hurdle for Court Seat

Senator Robinson

Senator Wagner

Although many Washington observers mention Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, and Senator Robert F. Wagner as possibilities to get the supreme court seat vacant after June 2, others point out that both have a formidable hurdle to mount. Enactment of the supreme court retirement bill March 1 made any member of the present Congress ineligible for appointment to the court because of the constitutional prohibition against naming a senator or representative to any office, the emoluments of which were increased in his term of office. This may affect both Robinson and Wagner.

HART FUNERAL
TO BE SUNDAY

Service for Columbiana's
Mayor Will Be Held
At Home

COLUMBIANA, May 21.—Funeral service will be held at 2:30
p. m. Sunday at the home on West
Park ave., for Mayor Clyde J. Hart, 53, who died at 1:40 p. m. Thursday of complications. He had been in failing health for two years.

A heart attack suffered Wednesday evening hastened his death.
For the past two weeks he had been suffering from an attack of the grippe.

The service will be in charge of
Rev. J. C. Strubel, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and Rev.
George A. Funk, pastor of the Christian church. Burial will be in the Columbiana cemetery.

The body will be taken this evening from the Fry funeral parlor
to the Hart home where friends
may call.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hart, the mayor was born in Columbiana, April 21, 1884, and had resided here practically all his life.
His wife, Lena A., whom he married at Leroy, O., in 1908, survives
along with three sons, George J., Robert C., and Harold V., and one daughter, Virginia, all of the home;
one brother, Clifford P. of San Gabriel, Calif., and a step-mother,
Mrs. Nellie Hart of San Gabriel.

Two sisters, Mrs. Inez Seigle and Miss Ruth Hart, both of Los Angeles, Calif.

First elected in 1933, Mayor Hart
was serving his second term in office. He operated a bakery here from 1915 to 1929. He was a member of Allen lodge, F. & A. M., at Columbiana, Omega council No. 44,
R. & S. M., Salem chapter No. 94,
R. A. M., Salem commandery No.
42, Knights Templar and Al Koran Shrine.

Services Planned
At Winona Church

Revival meetings will continue
next week, nightly, at the Winona
Friends church, with Rev. Frank Reichenbach of Fort Wayne, Ind.,
in charge.

Three services will be held Sunday with evangelistic exercises at 11 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. Members of the Trinity Reformed church,
near Lisbon, will attend services at 2:30 p. m.

Runaways Held

LISBON, May 21.—Two run-away
boys from Pennsylvania were held today at the sheriff's office to await word from police in the boys'
home towns.

The boys, Nick Barach, Jr., 15,
of Masontown, and Mike Zubovick, 13,
of Continental, were stopped last night by Marshal Dalton Pike and Patrolman Charles Patterson. The boys said they were running away
to Chicago.

OHIO CROSSING
TOLL IS HIGH

However, Many of Grade Crossing
Fatalities Occur At Spots
Which Are Protected

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, May 21.—Ohio was rated today as having next to the most railway crossing accidents of any state but C. G. Schaber, chairman of the state public utilities commission, said it was not because of a lack of crossing protection.

He said a survey showed that almost as many accidents occur at protected crossings as at unprotected ones although Ohio is protecting additional crossings at the rate of about one a week.

Interstate commerce commission
figures showed that Ohio had 330
accidents with 155 persons killed
in 1936 and that Illinois had 396
accidents with 208 fatalities.

"Density of population, the great number of highway, railroad mil-
age, 15,000 grade crossings and increased travel" were responsible for Ohio's high number of accidents, Schaber said.

The service will be in charge of
Rev. J. C. Strubel, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and Rev.
George A. Funk, pastor of the Christian church. Burial will be in
the Columbiana cemetery.

POUR CURBINGS
ON E. PERSHING

WPA Workers Hope to Lay 150 Feet of Concrete Daily

The first concrete was poured at the East Pershing at paving job today—material for the new curbing,
City Engineer F. S. Barchhoff announced.

With 20 WPA workers available,
it is hoped that 150 feet of curbing will be laid each day. The street is being paved between Ohio and South Lincoln avenues, with work
on the paving commencing at the Ohio ave. end.

The project started several weeks ago, but all services had to be moved back before the curbs could be set. Telephone poles, light standards, fire plugs and water, gas and electric services were among items changed in widening the street.

Work of laying the pavement to a width of 28 feet will commence
as soon as the curbs are all set, Barchhoff said. He explained that a seven-foot slab base will be laid and then topped by a layer of asphalt. Federal funds are providing the labor cost on the job. Property owners paid assessments, according to their respective per foot front-ages, to finance the greatest part of the work.

Rev. Keister Back
From Synod Meeting

Rev. G. D. Keister, pastor of Holy Trinity English Lutheran church
returned yesterday from Van Wert
where he attended the annual meeting of the Synod of Ohio. Sessions
close Thursday evening.

Dr. Joseph Sittler of Columbus was re-elected president of the Synod for a second four-year term.
Others from the district who attended were Rev. George Royer of Greenford; Ira Mellinger of Leetonia; Rev. S. D. Myers of Alliance
and Dr. O. C. Kramer of Sebring.

Steel Men Cast Ballots In National Labor Board
Election

VOTE CONDUCTED
AT TWO PLANTS

Contract Presented Immediately to Jones &
Laughlin

(By Associated Press)
PITTSBURGH, May 21.—The steel workers organizing committee, victorious in the nation's first major employee election under the supervision of the government, presented a collective bargaining contract today to the Jones and Laughlin Steel corporation.

The contract was received by Chairman H. E. Lewis of the corporation at a 20-minute conference with Chairman Phillip Murray
of the steel union, spearhead of John L. Lewis' industrial unionization drive.

Emerging from the conference
room, Murray said:
"The meeting was very amiable.
Mr. Lewis accepted the result of the election in good spirit."

Meet Again Tomorrow
The two leaders will meet again
tomorrow when the contract possibly may be signed. It is expected to be considered first by counsel
for the corporation.

More than 24,000 of Jones &
Laughlin's 27,000 employees voted yesterday by a two and one-half
to one margin in favor of having the union represent them exclusively in bargaining with the management.
The result was announced at dawn
today by the National Labor Board,
after the last ballot had been counted in the quiet of a postoffice room.

It was an historic election because it was the biggest ever conducted under the federal government's supervision.

It was a decision of momentous significance to the forces of John L. Lewis, whose Committee for Industrial Organization already was reaching out toward other steel companies where yet it has been unrecognized.

N. L. R. B. Announces Figures
At 4:38 a. m. Ernest C. Dunbar, regional director of the National Labor Relations Board, announced
these figures:

Total by is 34,412; for the steel workers organizing committee—the CIO unit involved—17,038; not in favor of the SWOC 7,207; blank
ballots 31; void ballots 56; challenged votes 90.

The men voted in two plants, the larger at Aliquippa, 18 miles down
the Ohio river from Pittsburgh,
the other at the south side mills in the city proper.

State May Purchase
Leetonia Y-O Barns

LISBON, May 21.—Unconfirmed
reports indicate the state is considering buying the abandoned
Youngstown and Ohio car barns at Leetonia and converting it into a garage for the Columbiana county
unit of the state highway department.

The present garage is rented, official state, and is the only building in the district occupied by the department, which it does not own.
It is said to be the property of a group of men headed by I. Koch of Alliance.

Holdings of the Y. and O., with the exception of the barn, have been purchased by the Youngstown and Southern Railroad, a subsidiary of the Mountour Railroad Co. The purchase includes the old right of way and an 80-foot steel bridge.

Leetonia Catholic Church
To Have Special Devotions

LEETONIA, May 21.—The congregation of St. Patrick's Catholic church, augmented by former parishioners and friends of the parish, will assemble in the church at 3 p. m. Sunday for a religious celebration.

After the opening services, the group will march in procession to the Shrine of Our Lady of Grace, located on the grounds. The outdoor setting is ideal for devotions of this description. The children of the parochial school have been carefully trained for their part in the observance.

Beautiful hymns in honor of the Mother of God will be sung by the congregation, led by the choir and school children. Rev. Paul Cunningham, a Dominican Father of New York city, will deliver the sermon. Mary Urable has been chosen by her classmates to place a crown
of flowers upon the statue of the Blessed Virgin. Bishop Joseph Schembs of Cleveland has granted permission for giving benediction at the shrine.

A cafeteria luncheon will be served after the devotions.

Steel Workers Vote In NLRB Election

Under supervision of the national labor relations board, 27,000 workers in Jones & Laughlin steel plants at Pittsburgh and Aliquippa, Pa., cast their vote in the largest collective bargaining election ever held in the United States. The election was held to determine whether or not the steel workers' organization committee, a C. I. O. affiliate will represent all J. & L. workers.

CHICAGO, May 21.—Germany's controlled press heightened its thunder to include American Jews
and Catholics today while Catholic priests of two American states joined those of other sects in defending George Cardinal Mundelein's attack on the Nazi government.

Nazi newspapers demanded the Vatican "call to order" Cardinal

Chicago, who touched off the international controversy Tuesday with a condemnation of "malicious
propaganda" he declared the Nazi leaders were directing at the church.

TRAVIS TO GET
PHYSICAL TEST

Declares He Is Unable to Stand
Trial; Examination Is Asked
By Prosecutor

LISBON, May 21.—Common Pleas Judge W. F. Lones is expected to appoint three disinterested physicians this week to examine G. Y.
Travis, former secretary of the Union Savings and Loan Co. of East
Liverpool, to determine if Travis
is physically able to stand trial
June 1.

Travis, under indictment on charges of embezzlement, has filed a certificate signed by Dr. Albert Michaels of East Liverpool, stating the defendant is unable to appear for trial on the date set because of ill health. Organic heart disease is listed among the ailments from which Travis is said to be suffering.

Following filing of the certificate Prosecutor Karl Stouffer asked the court to name three disinterested physicians to examine Travis. If found physically able to face trial
the defendant will answer charges
similar to those on which S. T.
Herbert, his business associate, was recently convicted and sentenced.

WPA PERMANENT,
HOPKINS' VIEW

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 21.—Harry
L. Hopkins completed four strenuous years in charge of federal relief today, convinced that government work for the jobless permanently has replaced private charity
as "The American system."

The Iowa-bred administrator has supervised the greatest relief fund
in history—amounting to almost $7,000,000,000 for work relief alone.

"My years here have taught me that Americans like to work for what they get," he said, "and that the nation has use for their labor
in public improvements when they can't find a job in private industry."

"The new American system is to give its employable people work
that will maintain their skills and morale, rather than to let them
deteriorate in idleness."

"I am confident that we will never go back to the dole or the vicious idea that poverty should be punished."

It was Hopkins who, late in 1933, began the transition from state aid to federal work. The Civil Works Administration, which put 4,000,000 on the treasury payroll within a month, resulted.

Unemployment had been an intermittent problem for more than 40 years before Roosevelt took office, but federal aid was not granted until late in the Hoover administration in the form of loans to states.

Congress first authorized the Reconstruction Finance Corporation,
in July, 1932, to lend $300,000,000
to the states.

Hopkins' immediate problem is to make next year's relief appropriation be it $1,500,000,000 or a third less, go as far as possible.

RELIEF BATTLE
DEVELOPS TEST

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 21.—The house battle over the size of next year's relief fund developed today
into a contest between administration forces and groups wanting to increase or decrease President
Roosevelt's recommendation for $1,500,000,000.

Observers described the final
vote, probably late in the afternoon,
as an important test of sentiment
on the economy issue.

Those pitted against the President's supporters offered three diverse proposals:

1. A $500,000,000 cut in the President's figure, which Rep. Woodrum (D-Va.) declared would "take the racketering out of relief."

2. A $3,000,000,000 relief fund,
which Rep. Boileau (Prog-Wis.) said would provide jobs for 3,000,000 and a 20 per cent increase in WPA pay.

3. A $2,200,000,000 "compromise," which Rep. Maverick (D-Tex.) said would prevent the lay-off of 600,000

PARADISE LOST

Sen. Joseph T. Robinson has earned a plum. Never was a man more faithful to his party under trying circumstances than he has been.

For several years, it has been common talk that the senator wanted to end his public career on the supreme bench. For a time, it seemed as though that dignified emolument might be arranged.

It is with this in mind, no doubt, that certain senators have started a boomlet in his favor, following retirement of Justice Van Devanter. The tribute to their friend and leader is undoubtedly sincere.

But it would be surprising to learn that it also was hopeful. Sen. Robinson is 64 years old; in six years, according to New Deal doctrine, he will be too old to be of further service to his country.

Sen. Robinson is by no means a Frankfurter liberal, or any other kind. Relieved of political duty, he might be relieved, also, of obligation to swallow every idea emanating from the facile minds and pens of the New Deal's brain trusters. The administration wants justices who will be absolutely dependable.

Furthermore, the senator cannot be spared from the senate till the President either has won or lost his court fight. Since it may be assumed Mr. Robinson would vote "right" in this matter, he automatically would disqualify himself under the constitutional restriction on appointing legislators to positions which they have voted to create or to change.

IDEAS DIE HARD

Memories are short, and it has been easy to forget about the slaughter of little pigs, potato control and plowing under every other row. But it is easy to remember that AAA, even more than NRA, was the outstanding symbol of a regimented life under managed economy.

Quietly, almost hidden by more exciting matters, a new farm bill has been introduced in Washington. It is the essence of that farm bill to end farm bills, the ever-normal granary plan which is the contribution of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace to the more abundant life.

At the outset, it is made known the President will not push the bill very hard this session. Farm politics is regulated, of course, by farm conditions, and there is a temporary lull in agrarian discontent. But the planners are looking forward to the next agricultural depression, and the new bill is a foretaste of what they have in mind.

Complete regimentation is the idea. The government would be given power to decide how much of each of five major crops every farmer in the United States should produce. Over-production would be discouraged by prohibitive taxes. There would be a reversion to the spirit of those dead little pigs, of potato control, of stubborn mules balking at orders to plow under every other row—of the whole doctrine of central planning over a nation's fields by desk farmers in Washington.

Ideas die hard these days.

KEEPING ABREAST OF THE WAR

The fall of Spain's fifth cabinet since the government began to stave off the Franco revolt last summer strengthens the conviction that an objective viewpoint is the best defense against embroilment in this strange war.

The government at Valencia numbers among its diversified ingredients anarchists and syndicalists, who would like to use the war to overthrow all government, including the present red one, though it comes closest to tickling their pet hatreds. The latest cabinet collapse was the result of their attempt to prosecute a class war within Loyalist ranks.

The Franco government is an even stranger mixture of aristocrats, uncivilized warriors, royalists, Germans, Italians and professional Spanish army men. Any American who can find a peg there on which to hang his sympathy will need to have sharp eyes and a strong stomach.

The principal effect of the Spanish civil war in the United States so far has been to remind Americans that there's nothing admirable about zealots when they begin to bathe each other in blood to prove that one political notion is better than another one.

THE STARS SAY :

For Saturday, May 22.

A lively and interesting day is forecast from the lunar and mutual aspects, with the energies under rather high stimuli to make important moves in the direction of launching new projects. These, however, may call for extravagances or possibly heavy outlay in promotion or attracting the attention and support of important interests. And while such methods may be effective, there should be alertness to crafty or subtle situations.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of success and achievement in the launching of new projects, mainly through contacts made with influential personages or by the outlay of funds in attractive promotional schemes. But be wary of collusion or subtlety.

A child born on this day may be proud, talented and enterprising, with fine, constructive ability, and should gain the attention and support of large interests. It may have personal tendencies to extravagance, show and conspicuous bids for popularity and social as well as business prestige.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

NEW YORK, May 21—Thoughts while strolling: Irving Berlin usually looks as though he had lost his best friend. No modern heating can compare to the blazing open fire. Speaking voices that have that certain something: Leslie Howard, Shirley Temple, Edgar Bergen and A. L. Alexander.

Radio red light: Too much self-exploitation among artists. Few singers float away on a high note with more ease than Helen Jepson. Rainbow get-ups: Ham Fisher's. Nobody has burst out in a pearl gray derby since Raymond Hitchcock went up the long, long trail. When we used to drive over a high culvert the buggy springs seemed to say: Serge Obelensky. After the surflet of recent cock-eyed poetry, I'll have a little of Ella Wheeler Wilcox for mine. Who remembers when the Algonquin boys used to sneer at all the literary newcomers?

Rhyme: Irving Caesar has a funny beeper. Hope Hampton's hair is the shade of that new pink grapefruit from Texas. Memory: Art Hickman playing his whistle accompaniment to his tune "Whispering." Add deserved screen come-backs: Jack Haley's. Major Bowes' handy-Andy lady: Bessie Mack.

Sudden thought: Never saw a white-haired waiter. Handsome gentlemen out of the old C. D. Gibson drawings: Hal Phylfe, H. T. Webster and James Montgomery Flagg. I often itch to bust into one of those "Cutting by Appointment Only" barbershops without appointment, just to see if they'd take me on.

Traffic swing: For years 5th avenue and 23rd street was the busiest New York corner. Then it swung to 34th and 5th avenue, then the Library corner at 42nd and 5th. But today clocks reveal that at rush hours the busiest corner is Park avenue at 57th.

Vagaries of a vapid mind: I never see Dudley Field Malone without thinking of those English types who so delight in the aroma of Harris tweed, harness leather and the grain of a good briar pipe. The sort who ride up horseback to the village pub at noon for a nip of ale and bitters and to get their copy of the day's Thunderer from The City.

The old Waldorf waged war for years to drag out the "We Boys" confidence sharks out of Peacock Alley and never quite cleared the corridors. A derided house detective was frequently called to Spanish walk some roaming rascalion to the revolving door for a push across the sidewalk. The old Waldorf bar was the hangout of the Gondorf brothers, most famous of the "We Boys." They had the silver marcel of Kyrle Bellow, the sedate dress of an old school banker and pontifical manner of a Schwab. Few who came about their wily gab escaped with bankroll unclipped. A police lieutenant tells me there are not many confidence boys today. And the approach is different. They make contacts through ladies who may or may not be their wives—smartly habited and living in deluxe hotels with social eclat. Said the police official: "Anyone who accepts an invitation to tea from a woman he does not know well is inviting a stock scheme gyp."

In the good gone days when a market-wise world sipped at every rainbow of promise there was a telephone stock salesman after me every morning, bursting with tidings of quick profits. Many times I was tempted to hang up in his ear, but he was so affable and I'm such a sofite. At the end of several years he gave me a mild rooking—50 shares of stock in a non-existent oil well in a Patagonian wilderness. He delivered it himself and I met him, a brisk sophomore type with hair embossed. Time skeedaddled on and the other day I met him face to face across the counter of a neighborhood store. We both bowed, looked confused and flushed neatly.

Ann Pennington is another of the comparative old-timers to accept the jousting of time with head up. Her name, that once spread across theater fronts where the Polies and Scandals held high jinkeries, now twinkles inauspiciously amid the jinkle jumble of cabaret performers in the stretch of cafes along West 52nd street. And "Penny," displaying her famous rouged knees, dances during the progress of several nightly floor shows with the same old abandon. The years have brushed her lightly.

Something must be done about advertising that is bent upon psychologizing the public into the belief that everything from gums to heels are on the friz. Turn pages of any magazine and one learns that about all that is left him is to take his pyorrhea, lodoris back line, body aroma, tattle-tale gray, and hobble upon his athlete's foot to a lonely grave. All have an alternative, but if you tried each what time would there be for living?

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland
New York City

NERVES

THERE ARE few of us who have escaped at least one attack of the common kind of neuralgia. But there is a rarer and more distressing form, which the doctors call "trigeminal neuralgia." It was first described over a century ago by Dr. John Fothergill.

As its name indicates, this is a disorder of one of the trigeminal nerves, of which there is one on each side of the face. As a rule this painful condition is found only in persons of middle life. It is rarely if ever suffered by children and young adults.

Much new knowledge of trigeminal neuralgia, or "tic douloureux," as it is also called, has been gained within recent years. But in spite of this, the actual cause of this painful disturbance, and a sure cure for it, still remain unsolved problems.

At times the trouble may be traced to some center of infection, such as diseased teeth, tonsils, or nasal sinuses. If infection exists, all abscessed tissue must be drained and the proper treatment applied to clear up the local trouble. After this, relief of the neuralgia is likely to be obtained. Every effort should be made to improve the general health and to increase the resistance against infection. A well-regulated routine of living is of the greatest importance. Adequate rest, nourishing food, moderate exercise and freedom from worry have their place in effecting a cure.

Pain Is Severe
The victim suffers from severe pain in the face. This is sudden in its onset, occurring in spasms, and traveling along the course of one or more branches of the nerve. Though the attacks of pain last but a few seconds, the severity of it and its weakening after-effects make the disease a dreaded disorder.

Like other neuralgic pains it is increased by pressure, even of the slightest touch. Chewing, speaking or touching the side of the face may be sufficient to bring on an attack.

It differs from other neuralgic pains in that the sufferer has complete relief from pain when he goes to bed at night. Other neuralgic pain often persists during the night and prevents sleep.

Alcoholic injections have been used with success. In this treatment, alcohol or some other chemical is injected into the nerve, the nerve center, or ganglion. The effect is in a sense to deaden the nerve, with relief from all pain and discomfort.

Answers to Health Queries
Mr. J. McG. Q.—What do you advise for bleeding piles or hemorrhoids? What is the usual procedure in such cases?

A—Proper diet and regular habits should be of general benefit and advantage. The treatment depends upon the extent or seriousness of the trouble. For further particulars send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and repeat your question.

L. G. Q.—What would cause the eyes to be blood-shot—the lids irritated and inflamed? This seems to happen periodically. What would you advise as treatment?

A—These symptoms may be due to a number of causes. For full particulars send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and repeat your question.

Mrs. J. L. C. Q.—Do you advise inoculations against whooping cough in a boy and girl, age three and five, respectively? The children are in excellent health.

A—Yes. Your doctor will be glad to go into further detail along these lines. Follow his judgment and advice.

Dr. Copeland is glad to answer inquiries from readers who send an addressed, stamped envelope with their questions. Address all letters to Dr. Copeland, New York City.

GREELEY, Col.—If you can't afford to pay a traffic fine in Greeley, you can't afford to drive a car. In the opinion of local justices of the peace, justices have been authorized to seize cars of traffic law violators who fail to pay fines.

by attempting to deny the church the privilege of religious training for Catholic youth.

This alleged government interference with the church's youth program was assailed by Cardinal Mundelein in his address. Vatican sources said the Holy See would take no action against the Cardinal regardless of the press attacks.

Renewed Nazi press outbursts assailed Catholics and Jews generally and Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York in particular as well as the cardinal. A speech by LaGuardia several weeks ago resulted in diplomatic representations by Nazi authorities.

Charges Immorality
The official German news agency circulated throughout Germany an item captioned "hair-raising immorality in New York high schools." It described an investigation into charges that there had been wholesale bootlegging of contraceptives among Brooklyn high school students.

Brooklyn was inhabited "chiefly by Jews and Catholics," the agency said, adding:

"This action by the board of education is further evidence of what we have said is possible in this city under the eyes of the Jew LaGuardia."

men under the President's program. Rep. Beller (D-NY) announced a separate fight to earmark $300,000 for the Public Works Administration, which he would extend for two years.

Despite predictions of some members that it might incur a presidential veto, house members voted yesterday to increase the interior department appropriation $2,390,500 over the President's budget recommendation and $7,131,840 above the sum suggested by its own appropriations committee.

Word that President Roosevelt had approved a $25,000,000 expenditure for "emergency and priority" flood control projects in the lower Ohio valley came from Chairman Whittington (D-Miss) of the house flood control committee.

The program would include spending $11,000,000 on these projects in the coming fiscal year, in addition to the $30,000,000 recommended as a flood-control starter by the budget bureau.

Only Dazed

LOS ANGELES—C. B. Flowers' automobile, thrown out of control
by a car that cut in too
quickly, struck the viaduct curb,
careened across the street,
crashed through the guard rail
and landed on a freight car's top 35 feet below.
Flowers was only dazed.

Motorcycle Riders' Fines Suspended

Five motorcycle riders, who were putting their "mounts" through strenuous antics on the diamond
at Centennial park last evening,
were arrested by Patrolmen James Hassey and George Reash.
Charged with reckless driving,
the five men were said to have been damaging the diamond. Each was fined $10 and costs, although the fines were discharged when Mayor George Harhoff exacted promises that the affair would not be repeated.
The motorcycle riders have been warned on several occasions, police point out.

COMMITTEE IS BALLOT VICTOR

Steel Men Cast Ballots In National Labor Board Election

No official breakdown of the ballots was available immediately.
Figures issued unofficially by Joseph Timko, sub-regional director
for the Swoc, before the tabulation
had been completed indicated under partial returns that in Aliquippa the CIO vote was about two to one, or less against about three
to one in the south side plants.

It was at Aliquippa that most of the unrest occurred in the recent 36-hour strike which brought about the election.

A "J & L" spokesman commenting on the fact that about 91 per cent of all eligible men voted, remarked:

"This shows the intense interest
of the men. The men have spoken,
this shows what they want."

H. E. Lewis, chairman of the corporation, issued this statement:
"The Jones and Laughlin Steel corporation is gratified that such an important issue has been so amicably settled by peaceful and Democratic methods under the provisions of the Wagner act."

"Now that the election is over and our employees have made their decision, let us forget the tension
of the past few weeks and cheerfully apply ourselves to our duties,
as there is much for all of us to do
with our order books better filled than for some time past."

By coincidence, it was J. & L., which challenged legality of the Wagner act and lost before the supreme court.

The voting had ended officially at midnight. Ballots were gathered from 46 polling boxes.
At the counting machines were Lee Pressman, attorney for the CIO; W. H. Dupka, comptroller of the company, and Dunbar. They all appeared in amiable spirits and as soon as the result was announced Dunbar felicitated all concerned.

The balloting was a straight
"yes" and "no" decision to the proposal:
"Do you want the union to deal
for you with the company."

It marked a new climax to a spectacular $1,000,000 organization
campaign started last July by the Committee for Industrial Organization sponsored steel workers organizing committee, under direction of Philip Murray.

Warner Oland, Katherine de Mille and Keye Luke in "Chan at the Olympics" at the State tonight and Saturday.

Mystery movie fans have their innings tonight and Saturday at the State when Charlie Chan, wily Chinese sleuth, returns to the screen in "Chan at the Olympics." Warner Oland, who has played the role of Earl Derr Biggers detective character on the screen so many times that his own name is often confused with the character, is seen again in the title role.

Keye Luke, who has played with Oland several times before in Chan stories as the eldest son of the large family, is in the picture as are Katherine de Mille, C. Henry Gordon, Allan Lane, Pauline Moore, Jonathan Hale, John Edridge and a young Chinese boy, Layne Tom, Jr., who makes an appearance as a younger son of the Chan family.

The film is the fourteenth in the highly popular series featuring the adventures of Chan, who, in this latest tale, faces threats of murder from a ring of international spies. When Chan frustrates their efforts to market a valuable stolen radio plane device, they kidnap Luke, the son, planning to force Chan's retirement from the case. Chan, however, matches wits with them and wins out.

The Chan series of pictures has been the longest and most successful series of feature-length production in the history of the screen and has had such influence on Warner Oland that he has limited his screen appearances to the Chan roles. Oland, despite his success as the Oriental detective, was born in Umea, Sweden, of Swedish parents. Allan Lane, who has an important role in the picture is the former Notre Dame star athlete, who made his professional debut as an outfielder with the Toledo American Association baseball club.

The Grand features a musical western starring Gene Autry tonight and Saturday with a new chapter of the current serial, "Robinson Crusoe of Clipper Island."

DEATHS LAST NIGHT

(By Associated Press)

PARIS—The Maharaj of Alwar, 55, Prince of India, noted hunter and sportsman.

TITUSVILLE, Pa.—John L. McKinney, 94, pioneer Pennsylvania oil producer and a founder and director of the American Radiator company.

NEW YORK—Merton C. Robbins, 62, chairman of the Robbins Publishing company, former president of the New York Trade Press association and one of the founders of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

NEW YORK—Edward Eyre, 86, former president of W. R. Grace and Company, shippers and traders.

LOS ANGELES—Dr. Theodore Kemp, 69, retired Methodist minister and former president of Illinois Wesleyan university.

PARIS—Gustave Scholle, 74, retired United States diplomat, of heart disease.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—Dr. Dixon Ryan Fox, president of Union college, can boast another title, says the student publication. A letter came to Dr. Fox from the Gutenberg Museum in Mainz and addressed to "His Magnificence the Rector of the Union University, Schenectady-Albany, N. Y., U. S. A."

150 Mt. Union Students In May Day Rites Saturday

Miss Kathryn Cessna of Salem, To Be Featured In "The Legend of the Chippewas"

ALLIANCE, May 21.—Preparations are nearing completion for the 1937 May Day spectacle which will be presented by 150 Mt. Union college students at 3 p. m. Saturday in a setting that takes in the campus lakes.

This year's pageant will feature Miss Kathryn Cessna of Salem, who during the course of the presentation will receive the May day crown from Miss Novelle Allen of Decfield, who reigned over the traditional spring ceremonies in 1936.

Educational Project
In producing "The Legend of the Chippewas," a large number of Mt. Union students have been provided with an educational project that required long careful study in early American history. Authentically in depicting Indian and pioneer life has been a principal objective.

The story of the pageant, which was composed by a committee of students assisted by faculty members, is based upon a peaceful meeting of Indians and a band of westward-traveling pioneers.

Miss Cessna plays the part of a pioneer maiden who so attracts the chief's bride, "Princess Winona" (Miss Allen) with her beauty that she is made an honorary member of the tribe and called "Princess White Flower". All this calls for a celebration, in which Indians and their white guests display to each other their respective dances and songs.

Each princess will be attended by the usual May day court. Included in the group of pioneer girls who attend Miss Cessna will be Miss Mary Coy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Coy, Ellsworth road, Salem. Others in the junior court are Nancy Walker of Akron, Dorothy Weigand of Alliance, Eleanor Pickens of Louisville, Ruth Traphagen of Massillon, Eleanor Iman of Crestline, Martha Blackledge of Sunbury and Mary Frances Glandon of Washington, D. C.

While the lower Mt. Union campus forms a logical natural background for the pageant, in

350 ATHLETES TO VIE IN DISTRICT TRACK MEET

Scholastic Track Stars From 30 N.E.O. Schools Perform Here Tomorrow

Prelims of Southern Half, Northeastern Ohio Meet Scheduled for Morning, With Finals In Afternoon; Records Expected to Fall

Some 350 athletes representing 30 Class A and Class B schools make their bids for the right to enter the state track and field meet in the annual southern half, northeastern Ohio district meet at Reilly stadium tomorrow afternoon.

Only the tracksters who finish first, second and third in each event of the district competition are permitted to strut their stuff in the state meet at Columbus, May 28 and 29.

Sixteen events will be run off in both the Class A and Class B divisions of the N. E. O. meet with the preliminaries scheduled to start at 9 a. m. and the finals at 2 p. m.

The final in two weight events, shot put and discus, will be held in the morning along with the prelims. Finals will also be held in the morning for the Class B pole vault, high jump and broad jump.

Warren Harding High is defending team champion in Class A, while Columbiana is defending champ in Class B.

Frederick E. Cope, faculty manager and track coach of Salem High school, who is manager of the meet, announced today that the following schools will compete in the two divisions:

CLASS A—Alliance; Buchtel, East Garfield, North, South and West of Akron; Barberton; Boardman; Lehman and McKinley of Canton; East Palestine; Howland; Kent Roosevelt; Lisbon; Louisville; Niles; Ravenna; Salem; Warren and Youngstown Rayen.

CLASS B—Columbiana; Farmington; Farmdale; Greenford; Leavittsburg; North Bloomfield; North Canton North Lima and Poland.

The six Akron schools entered in the meet will send 65 athletes into action in the 16 events. Garfield's squad is the largest coming from the Rubber City.

Although district records here are far better than they are in other sections of the state, several of the marks are expected to fall during tomorrow's program.

Bob Baehr of Warren, fleet-footed sprinter, who now shares the district 220-yard dash record with Allen of Akron West, is hoped to lower this mark if the weather is good and the track fast. Max Lutsch of Salem is conceded a chance of bettering the present high jump record and Welby Broadus of Barberton figures to smash his own javelin mark of 177 feet, 5 inches.

In Class B, Columbiana's crack relay team of Dewaye Anglemeyer, Richard (Sonny) Fisher and the Emmerken twins, Bill and Bob, will probably provide the highlight to the record breaking with a new mark in the 880-yard relay. The Columbiana team is undefeated and has smashed records in every meet it has participated in this season.

Favorites to win in some of the Class A events are Baehr of Warren in the 100 and 220-yard dashes; McKay of Warren in the discus; Lutsch of Salem in the high jump; Joslin of Akron Buchtel in the pole vault; Newman of Youngstown Rayen in the high and low hurdles; Broadus of Barberton in the javelin; Paul Roelen of Salem in the mile run; Popa of Canton McKinley in the half-mile run; Patterson of Akron Buchtel in the 440-yard dash; Taylor of Akron West in the broad jump; Akron Buchtel in the half-mile relay; Canton McKinley in the mile relay and Akron Garfield in the mile relay.

Wilbur J. Springer, former Salem High school principal and athletic coach, will serve as referee of the meet. Fritz Mullins of Salem has been named honorary referee.

Other officials are: Kenneth Weber of Niles, starter; James Carpenter of Salem, assistant starter; Dave Williams of Youngstown, clerk of course; John Carpenter of Salem, assistant clerk of course; H. C. Wagner of Warren, head time judge; Rev. Herbert J. Thompson, Reed Calkins, Loren Early, Clarence Walker and Bill George of Salem, judges; Larry Brown of Ravenna, head track inspector; Bill Roebush of Salem, head judge of jumps; Clarence Burke of Boardman, head judge of weights; Charles Felton of Lisbon, Charles Labor of East Palestine, John Russ of Youngstown and Bob Carey of Salem, timers; Carl P. Schroeder of Salem, custodian of awards; Ray Resbeck of Salem, announcer and James Gregg and Jack Ballantine of Salem, scorers.

Class "A" Softball League Resumes Contests After Idleness

TRADESMEN WIN FROM NEWS FOR FIRST VICTORY

Class A League Back In Action For First Time In Week

Idle one week because of rain and muddy playing conditions, the Class A City Softball league resumed its 1937 season at Centennial park last evening with the Tradesmen Class chalking up its first victory by trimming the News, 13 to 6.

The Class B circuit also picked up where it left off when the rain set in, playing two games in which the Emmanuel Lutherans defeated the Baptists, 6 to 2, and the Presbyterians won from the Columbians by the same score.

The other Class A game scheduled for last evening between the Salem Chinas and the American Lunch was won by the Pottery club on a forfeit. It was the Chinas second win of the season.

Errors proved costly to the News as it suffered its second straight loss. The eight mistakes made by the "paper boys" enabled the Tradesmen Class to score seven of its 13 runs. All of the Tradesmen's runs in the fourth inning, when they scored four times, were made possible by News errors.

Eddie Heidrick, the fastest of fast ball pitchers in the senior circuit, went four and one-half innings on the mound for the Tradesmen Class, giving way to Bill Miller in the latter part of the fifth. Heidrick pitched effective ball until the fifth frame when he lost his control and walked five straight batters.

Glen Whinnery went the full distance on the mound for the News, but was given poor support as he allowed 12 hits. Splendid early season pitching featured both of the Class B games on the lower diamond with three hurlers turning in two-hit games. Bill Pauline of the Emmanuel Lutherans gave up only two safe blows as his team won from the Baptists. Bennett of the long team also pitched two-hit ball.

McQuiston of the Presbyterians turned in the other two-hitter as he pitched his team to a 6 to 2 win over the Columbians.

Wetzel Has Outstanding Record As Ball Manager
By FRITZ HOWELL

DAYTON, May 21.—Henry Wetzel, who calls him "win or place Buzz" in the Mad-Atlantic league, boasts the outstanding managerial record in baseball.

"Buzz"—skipper of the Springfield Indians—now perched atop the Class C circuit—has been a minor loop manager for 15 years.

And in those 15 campaigns Wetzel has compiled the modest record of 10 pennants and five second places.

A great-grandfather of Wetzel's name was Louis Wetzel, was an Indian fighter. Buzz is a fighter, too, but he's for the Indians, not against 'em. Springfield is a Cleveland Indian farm.

Quizzed about his remarkable record, Wetzel passed it off with—"why that's because I'm a seventh son."

He added that that genealogical fact might also be credited with another record which he hung up two years ago while piloting the Zanesville Mid-Atlantic club for Cleveland.

Out of 70 contests that year—including exhibition tilts, not one was called because of rain.

Wetzel ran into a bit of tough luck this season at Springfield, the park not being completed in time to permit the schedule opening games at home. As a result the Indians stayed on the road for the first 11 games—but they showed their class by winning seven of them.

That "seven of eleven" proved lucky, too, for when the Indians finally came home Wednesday night, a crowd of 4,500 turned out. And the Indians obliged by beating Johnston 10 to 4.

The victory put Springfield on top of the league standing, the only place Wetzel feels at home. And having been up there for 15 years in a row, the chances are that Buzz will stay there or thereabouts.

OHIO COLLEGES HAVE BIG DAYS
Whirlwind of Activity On Tap for Collegiate Athletes

Today was the first of a two-day whirlwind of activity for Ohio college athletes.

A field of more than thirty starters took off at Dayton in the Ohio intercollegiate golf tournament.

Four titles were up for decision—the state four-man team championship, over 35 holes, and the Ohio conference Buckeye conference and Ohio intercollegiate individual laurels, over the 72-hole medal play route.

Seventeen of the 20 Ohio conference colleges were represented in the annual Bix Six track meet at Oberlin, which drew a field of about 175 athletes for the preliminaries this afternoon. Oberlin, defending champion, was figured to be pressed hard by Wooster.

Five Buckeye conference teams were represented by the annual Buckeye conference track meet at Delaware, with Miami given a slight edge over Ohio Wesleyan and Ohio university. Other entries are Cincinnati and Dayton.

In addition to these three state events, finals of which will not be completed until tomorrow except for the state team golf championship, a number of dual golf, tennis, track and baseball competitions will keep many of Ohio's other athletics busy over the weekend.

Ohio State university's attention centered on the annual Western Conference tennis and track tournaments at Ann Arbor, Mich. The Buckeyes' Bob Nihousen is favored to reach the final round of the net meet which started yesterday and Ohio State counted on its team balance, topped by high jumpers Dave Albritton and Mel Walker, to count in the track event opening today.

Ohio conference teams entered in the Big Six track tourney, in addition to Oberlin and Wooster, are Case, Baldwin-Wallace, Denison, Toledo, Muskingum, Bowling Green, Heidelberg, Kenyon, Mount Union, Wittenberg, Otterbein, Kent State, Ohio Northern, Ashland and Capital.

YANKEE CLUB'S FAMOUS POWER DRIVE LACKING

Injury Jinx Has Played Havoc With World Champions

NEW YORK, May 21.—The injury jinx which overhauled and fettered the Detroit Tigers last season after they had won successive pennants in 1934 and 1935, apparently has selected the New York Yankees for American league running mates in the current race.

Moreover, the thing could get downright serious before next fall, although no alarm is being felt for the present.

At the start of the season when everybody was picking the Yanks as odds on favorites to repeat, Manager Joe McCarthy's prophecy in behalf of his team was regarded as timid, bromide and something less than accurate.

"We ought to repeat, but so many things can happen—injuries, batting slumps and what not—that it might be an extremely tough race," is approximately what he said, and you still can hear the echo from the hoots that greeted his extremely conservative statement.

Still, just to see how the thing might work out, take a look at what happened to the Yankees up to now:

Outfielder Joe DiMaggio's first appearance in the lineup delayed two weeks by a bad arm and tonsillitis; Outfielder Jake Powell lost for a month due to an operation for appendicitis; Catcher Bill Dickey out for three weeks with an injured arm; First Baseman Lou Gehrig handicapped by a finger injury; Manager McCarthy himself ailing with influenza.

Add to all that the holdout of Pitcher Red Ruffing and the delay while he was getting in shape, causing him to miss more than three weeks of play. He may feel the effects of that holdout all season and never really get under way. That would mean a 20-game winner of last season suddenly turned into just another thrower.

Another factor which has hindered the Yanks is loss of a sustained batting punch through these early weeks. Outfielder George Selkirk is the only regular who has been well above 300 consistently. Infielder Tony Lazzeri has hovered around that figure, while the rest have been lagging.

Compare that general slump with the attack of last season, when "Murderer's Row" included almost from the first game to the last a half dozen to eight 300 hitters, most of them smacking the ball a mile.

You get an idea by now what Manager McCarthy had in mind when he spoke of the possibility of a tough race and mentioned the things that might happen to a club which apparently can't lose.

The Yanks still figure to win the pennant, of course. Once the epidemic of injuries and illness ends, they will begin knocking pickets off the fences, and they've got plenty of time in which to begin rolling along.

But the Detroit Tigers and Cleveland Indians are ready to take advantage of any breaks—and the race may be even tougher than McCarthy visualized.

REDS AND PHILLIES FIGHT FOR SEVENTH
CINCINNATI, May 21.—With only one-half game lead over the Reds for seventh place, the Phillies were here today to meet the Cincinnatians in a two game series.

Stung twice in a row, by the Boston Bees, 3 to 1 Wednesday night, and 4 to 1 yesterday, the Cincinnatians based their hopes on the pitching of Paul Derringer in the first game with the Phillies. Clyde Passeau was Derringer's announced opponent.

The Red's manager, Chuck Dressen, said an injury to Pitcher Wild Bill Hallahan's pitching hand yesterday was only a bruise and he would be ready to take his turn regular at mound duty.

PLACENTIA FACES AKRON CHAMPIONS
A twin bill will be offered Lake Placid fans Sunday when the Lakers meet the Akron Wormser Hays, Class A champions of the Rubber City in 1936. The first game of the double-header will start at 1:30 p. m.

The Placentia nine met the Akron team three times last year, losing twice and winning once.

American League Upsets Dope By Providing Best Baseball Race In Years

Only Four and One-Half Games Separate League Leader From Cellar-Ranking St. Louis Browns; Washington Hottest of All Clubs Now

The whole thing doesn't make as much sense as an insane asylum, but the figures show the American league is off to a closer and more completely unlooked for start than it has seen in years.

True, the hitting in a league that features offense is 'way off. But so is the pitching.

By the end of the first month last year, five games separated first and fourth place. This season, the race was regarded as New York, Detroit, Cleveland and nothing much else.

But so far it's been as tight as a mustard plaster all the way down the list—so close in fact that only

OHIO GOLF UNIT RETAINS STYMIE

Directors of Association
Vote to Keep Present Rule

COLUMBUS, May 21.—A stellar field of competitors in the Ohio amateur golf tournament at Canton Brookside course June 20 will continue to play under the stymie rule.

Charles Howard of Akron, secretary of the Ohio Golf Association, said today the group's directors had voted 7 to 5 to keep the stymie and that most of the seven had indicated they felt the rule should be adhered to until the United States Golf Association abolishes it, as has been urged by some players.

"It looks like another star-studded field," said Howard in announcing he had received word that Jack Munro of Barberton, Neil Rankin of Cincinnati, Maurice J. McCarthy, Jr., of Cleveland, Bobby Servis of Dayton, Joe Wells of East Liverpool, John Florio of Columbus and Paul Segerlund of Akron would be in the tournament.

Munro, two-time champion, has not played in the tournament since 1932. He was playing with the Zanesville Country club when he won the title.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, May 21.—Reports persist the New York State Athletic commission will reinstate Barney Ross without making him go through the formality of defending his welterweight title against Ceferno Garcia, of Los Angeles.... which would pave the way for a Ros-Pedro Montanez bout.... promoters have been trying to land this plum for months, but were handcuffed by the suspension of Ross.

Marquette university golfers were boiling when they returned home the other day after losing a match away from home.... playing on a strange course for the first time, they approached the 16th tee and asked their hosts which way to drive.... "that way" replied the home boys, pointing.... so the Marquettians drove "that way" quite well.... imagine how they felt when the locals teed up and headed in the opposite direction.... Marquette's golfers took 8's and 9's on the hole, while the home boys holed out in 4's.

Correction: Stan Bordagaray of the Cardinals and not Wally Berger of the Bees is the outfielder the Giants are dicker-ing for.... (But the fisticuffs the other day may have de-ayed the deal).... Benny Hufman, now catching regularly for the Browns, was behind the plate for Bridgewater college, a small institution of only 250 students, a year ago.

One major league manager who doesn't grow old is Jimmy Dykes of the White Sox.... Lou Brix is on the way to Detroit with Ban-lumweight Champ Sixto Escobar to close for a title shot against K. O. Morgan under Jack Kearns' aus-pices.... Sixto will take the bout if they can agree on a date before July 15.... Otherwise, he is going to London to fight Peter Kane for a $15,000 guarantee.... have you bought your ticket to the Braddock-Schmeling fight yet?.... Official-ly, President Ford Frick had to slap on a fine or two for the riot in St. Louis.... privately and confident-ly he probably wishes he had been on hand to see it and report it for the papers as he used to do before he became an exec.

Will Anzacs Trip U. S. Team?

Will Don Budge, ace of the United States Davis cup team, be the goat or hero when the American netters meet Australia in the American zone finals at Forest Hills the week-end of May 29? Budge has the responsibility of carrying four matches, two singles and two doubles with his partner, Gene Mako. On his slim shoulders, then, rest the hopes for recapturing the coveted trophy now held by Eng-land. Adrian Quist, star of the Australian team, is chief threat to the U. S. tennis aces in their campaign.

MINNEAPOLIS—Harold Ohlgren, physics assistant at the University of Minnesota, has discovered a method of obtaining gas in com-mercial quantities from hay, corn-stalks and clover. He declines to reveal the process used.

Wiley Moore Saves Association Games

CHICAGO, May 21.—Remember old Wiley Moore, the sinker-ball expert who did some great relief pitching for the New York Yankees a decade ago?

He's still around, saving games for other Kansas City pitchers in American association warfare. He was rushed into action last night at Indianapolis after the Indians had filled the bases on Johnny Nig-geling, and pitched in old-time form to stop the rally without a run being scored. He was nipped for five hits during his two and a fraction innings of service and was scored on twice in the ninth, but was still good enough to save an 8 to 6 victory for Niggeling.

Springfield Leads Mid-Atlantic Loop

COLUMBUS, May 21. — The Springfield Indians advanced another game today at the top of the Mid-Atlantic baseball league stand-ings, followed by the Canton Ter-riers.

The Indians beat Johnstown, Pa., 17 to 7 at Springfield to run their string of victories to nine against four lost and the Terriers, at home, blanked Charleston, W. Va., 12 to 3, for a seven won and four lost total.

Portsmouth won its fifth straight game to nose out Akron for third position by walloping Zanesville 10 to 1 in the Ohio River city. In the other game last night, Dayton outscored Akron 16 to 12 at Dayton.

Reductions Made By Western Union

Reductions in rates for overnight telegraph service which will become effective June 1 will provide sub-stantial savings to residents of Sa-lem. It was disclosed today by C. S. Hollis, local manager of the West-ern Union Telegraph company.

A tariff filed with the Federal Communications Commission at Washington will reduce the cost of both short and long mes-sages and cut the telegraph bill of the nation by approximately $3,000,000.

"The effect of these reductions," Hollis said, "is that the charge for 25 words will be the same as, and in some cases lower than, the present charge for a 10-word night mes-sage and that long messages can be sent at relatively even lower rates."

RECIPES TO END 'CONSTIPATION'

Every woman can protect her family from common constipation by careful menu planning. After the cause of illness from constipation is lack of "bulk" in the diet.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies this "bulk" in generous quantity. You can use ALL-BRAN in so many delightful ways. As a ready-to-eat cereal with milk or cream, fruits or honey added. Or make delicious bran muffins and breads—put it into griddle cakes, salads or soups, or over other cereals.

Just be sure each member of your family gets two tablespoonsful every day—and forget the illness caused by constipation. Serve three times daily, in severe cases.

You can also forget pills and drugs that nobody likes to take—and that so often fail unless the dose is constantly increased.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B to help tone the intestines, and iron for the blood. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Barn at Middleton Destroyed by Fire

COLUMBIANA, May 21.—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed an old barn at the farm of Nelson Lower at Middleton early yesterday. The property is owned by Bert Moore.

Mr. Lower was asleep at the time. Only a small quantity of hay was stored in the building.

WINONA

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Holloway and son Albert, Mrs. Sina Stanley and children, Bobby and Dorothy May and Mrs. Edith Holloway spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Roland Holloway and family of Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stocker and daughter, Rena Claire, of Canton were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Stanley, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Solomon and two children of Akron have moved into the Amanda Cope home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rhodes, superintendent and matron of Tusneasa Indian school, New York, and Miss Edith Hall, dean of girls, of the same school, arrived in town Monday and Tuesday with their families.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clapham. Miss Hall was a guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hutton. Mr. and Mrs. Hutton and Miss Hall spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. James Cooper of Middleton.

Reast Is Held

Miss Lucille Dickinson was hostess to a winter roast for her pupils of the Winona primary school and their parents, at her home on the Salem-Lisbon rd., Monday evening.

PURVIS SAILS

Former Ace "G-Man" Leaves For France Disguised As Passenger "Oscar Smith"

NEW YORK, May 21.—Disguised as "Oscar Smith," Melvin Purvis, former "G-Man" who was credited with tracking down John Dillinger, was Europe-bound today aboard the French liner Normandie.

The famous sleuth, whose romance with Janice Jarratt, Hollywood movie actress, recently cracked up, slipped aboard the liner a few minutes before its departure.

He was booked in tourist class under the name of "Oscar Smith," with his destination given as Havre, France. Spotted by photographers, Purvis vanished as smoothly as some of the gangsters he trailed during his career as a federal agent and "hid out" until the ship sailed.

French line officials said today that after the Normandie left the pier, Purvis changed from tourist to cabin class and disclosed his real identity.

The reason for his trip abroad remained Purvis' secret, however, although it was intimated that he was seeking to get "away from it all" as an aftermath of his broken love idyll.

"Rich Cargoes" by Henry C. Rowland

CHAPTER XXI

"Then you think that Vinckers & Co. have got the jewels and know that the Colonel is in hiding?"

"I'm afraid so. I think he wanted to put me off." Isobel's voice was tremulous.

"And he counts on being able to overawe Vinckers into giving up the jewels?"

"That's how it looks to me," Isobel said. "He might have managed it before, but not now. This silly business has cost him his prestige. Vinckers will face him out, deny that he or any of them know anything about the jewels or the will, and then put out all his force to get something more. The worst of it is, I'm afraid he may succeed."

Sandy did not offer any comment. A new idea had entered his mind. That Colonel Carlton's mental derangement might be really more advanced than any of them had guessed, and that his great wealth might be actually an illusion. No doubt the Colonel had at one time possessed a large fortune, and at least he had been able to buy the island and build his roomy house and lay out the grounds. But all of this expense might have exhausted his resources, left him cramped for ready cash. Besides, these disbursements had been three years ago, and with the insidious progress of such a mental disease as general paresis there was no telling what the afflicted man might have done since with the remainder of a fortune perhaps at no time so very great.

Then, in a moment of lucidity, the Colonel might have realized that he was short of funds, and decided to hypothecate Isobel's necklace, less with any criminal intention than in the sanguine and fat confidence of being able with the proceeds of its sale to recoup largely, which confident optimism is a part of this insidious mental disease.

At any rate, it looked to Sandy very much as if his last rich cargo had trickled through the fingers of its owner to dissolve like pearls in vinegar. It did not seem worth while at the moment to express this fear to Isobel. The poor girl had enough to worry her already. And very likely she suspected something of the sort herself.

"Well," Sandy said, "the Colonel is safe and sound, and that's a whole lot to be thankful for. The chances are, I think, that these beautiful children of his will very soon clear out."

Isobel nodded. "That will be another thing to be tremendously thankful for. I don't see what's to keep them. They've got what they came for. Maybe more."

"Well then let's go."

Mouse was made to lower his great bulk and they mounted. Isobel remained silent, plunged in thought. The conviction that something had come between them grew stronger in Sandy's mind. It distressed him with a sense of futility, this impalpable barrier when they had been so closely welded. He could not get hold of anything to tear away. It was like the dream of the dearly beloved in which the outlines are blurred through the distance of imperfect sympathy. Something had happened. Isobel had learned or suspected some fact to rupture their accord.

On the trail they passed a group of natives who like the others sheered off, gave them wide trail, passed with averted heads or lowered ones. Isobel made no comment on this fact, but Sandy did.

"These people act curiously," he said. "As if they had been frightened away and were ashamed to face us."

"Can you blame them?" she retorted hotly. "The King has fallen."

"It doesn't seem enough. He's got a right to go into seclusion if he likes," Sandy said.

"Not in that way. Like a fugitive, criminal. With these people dignity is everything, and the high hand, the lordly gesture. They think that he's afraid and," she added slowly, "so do we."

"I don't know. That's what stifles me. Hester, Vinckers are too sure—too possessive."

"See here, Isobel, your uncle's had an adventurous life. There must have been violent episodes. You told me that yourself. It wouldn't be strange if Vinckers had discovered something he couldn't afford to have published. Vinckers has all the earmarks of a blackmailer."

"True enough," Isobel admitted. "but Uncle's never been the sort of a man to let himself be blackmailed."

"No. He'd make short work of Vinckers, even Flavia perhaps. But there's not much he can do about his son and daughter."

"There ought to be. Well, let's not talk about it," Isobel said.

"Let's not even do anything about it. Go with me to Nassau and be married. Then we'll come back here and dig into this all you like."

She shook her head. "You met me under a cloud. We didn't know it but it was there. What do you know about me anyway except what you've been told? What do you know about Uncle? I believe now he got you here for just what's happened."

"So much the better since we're satisfied," Sandy said.

"I'll not be satisfied until I know the truth. You might as well question one of these shiftless blacks or a Chinaman as Uncle. My idol's shattered and it hurts. I believed him to be all he seemed."

"You take it too hard. After all these years of his love and protection."

"We were never much together until we came here two years ago. I was in school in France and England and in America. He was in the Far East and in London. He sent large sums for my provision. Then he told me that he had got his affairs all in order and wanted now only to spend his remaining days in quiet. Pursue his studies in meta-physics, philosophy."

"Where did you know the Vinckers and younger Carltons?"

"Only here. They came last winter for a fortnight, just before he went back for a final voyage. To clean up as he said. While he was here I visited friends who had a home near Charleston. Old rice planters. The daughter was at school in England with me. Malvern. We went to Florida and there I met them again."

"All four together?"

"Yes, and that's odd too because they don't seem so congenial."

"Mutual sordid interest," Isobel said, contemptuously. "I told you yesterday I had a feeling of something horrible to happen. Then I thought it was Uncle's disappearance, his death. But now in some ways this is worse for the feeling is still there. I feel as if I were in a nasty quicksand. I don't want you in it too."

"I'm already there—to haul you out."

She did not answer and they went on. Mouse shambled along rapidly with a gait unlike his usual rolling one as if the nerve tension close to his spinal cord had reached it by induction.

There was a hush about the premises when they arrived. The reason was immediately apparent. All the servants had gone. Like rats abandoning a rotten ship they had filtered away. Not even Sambo, the Herculean head boy, remained. Nothing is so contagious as superstitious fear, nor is taboo confined to Polynesian.

The four guests were on the verandah, sitting at a table on which were drinks. They welcomed Isobel with expressions of relief that sounded hollow almost mocking.

"So the devil didn't fly away with you," Vinckers said with half-hearted levity. "Pity you couldn't have got back a little sooner. The bally blacks have all vanished. Beat it, evaporated. Got it into their one-cylinder domes that Obi in the form of Mouse was on the loose."

"I'll have my cook and steward ashore and turn 'em to," Sandy said.

"That would help," Hester murmured. "We're famished."

Sandy went down and called his boat and gave the necessary orders. At least he hoped this exodus of service might hasten the departure of the quartette. Whether or not things might resume their natural course would then be seen. No doubt the Colonel, experienced with natives of all sorts, knew what he was doing, could gather them in hand again. He was even artful enough, Sandy believed, to have dropped hints that had resulted in the walkout.

Meanwhile a situation seemed suspended. Sandy could not be at all sure that Vinckers and Company really believed the Colonel removed to another plane of matter. Doubting this, they might be malicious enough to stay on, if only to get square with him. And the defeat of the stratagem must give them more than ever the whip hand.

Isobel went to her room and did not come down until the luncheon was eventually served. Sandy found it less of an ordeal than he had anticipated, not being wont to break bread with blackmailers. When asked indifferently by Hester where he had found Isobel, he said:—"Sitting in the shade of a rock near Mouse, when I came back from beating out the bush."

Flavia asked presently in her silky voice:—"When is the happy day to be, Mr. Crewe?"

"It isn't set. Isobel's naturally distressed about the Colonel. She wants to observe a period of mourning."

"Well, this is the place for it," Vinckers observed. "No great amount of jazz." And he added slowly, "I'll postpone my own until I'm cock sure he's left us permanently, and that will be when there's a corpse delict."

Hester nodded. "There are no man-eating sharks here, according to Daddy. But there are lots of boats."

"Why," Sandy asked, "should you think he would trick you?"

Jarvis said in his wan voice:—"Why should an elderly man sometimes imagine he's a mad dog or escaped criminal? I believe they call it paranoia."

"Just now," Flavia volunteered limply, "he is more apt to be Bonny Prince Charlie . . . or one of the regicide judges."

YOUNG AMERICA HAZY ON NEWS

Some High School Students Unable to Identify Roosevelt

(By United Press)
COLUMBUS, May 18. — Young America, adept at placing the latest slang in its vocabulary and mastering all new dance steps, isn't as proficient in the matter of keeping pace with national and international affairs.

Harrison M. Sayre, editor of an educational journal, reached that conclusion after he scanned the papers of 300,000 students in current event tests given recently in 33 cities in the United States.

Students from the seventh grade to high school seniors were given an examination that contained 100 questions on current topics.

A few of the high school students were unable to identify Franklin D. Roosevelt.

As to the Supreme Court and the central figures in the controversy with the President over judicial reform, many were in ignorance.

The tests showed the students placing the number of Supreme Court justices from 5 to 48. The chief justice of the body was named variously as Albert Einstein, Hermann Goering, Stanley Baldwin, William Lemke, J. Edgar Hoover and William E. Borah.

Goering Greatest Enigma
Goering provided the students with the great difficulty of any personality mentioned in the examination. Besides being identified as a Supreme Court justice, he was said to be Socialist Premier of France, Italy's foreign minister, the U. S. ambassador to France, dictator of Russia and winner of the Nobel peace prize.

Other "boners" included: "Romeo and Juliet" was written by Eugene O'Neill; Joseph Stalin is president of the American Federation of Labor; Alfred Landon recently was awarded a medal by President Roosevelt for outstanding achievement; Frances Perkins is dictator of Russia; Albert Einstein was named as secretary of state and head of the G-Men; J. Edgar Hoover was listed as the Republican candidate for president in 1936; Helen Keller as Socialist premier of France; Joseph Stalin as head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation; William Green as president of the Irish Free State, and Gen. Francisco as a senator from Idaho.

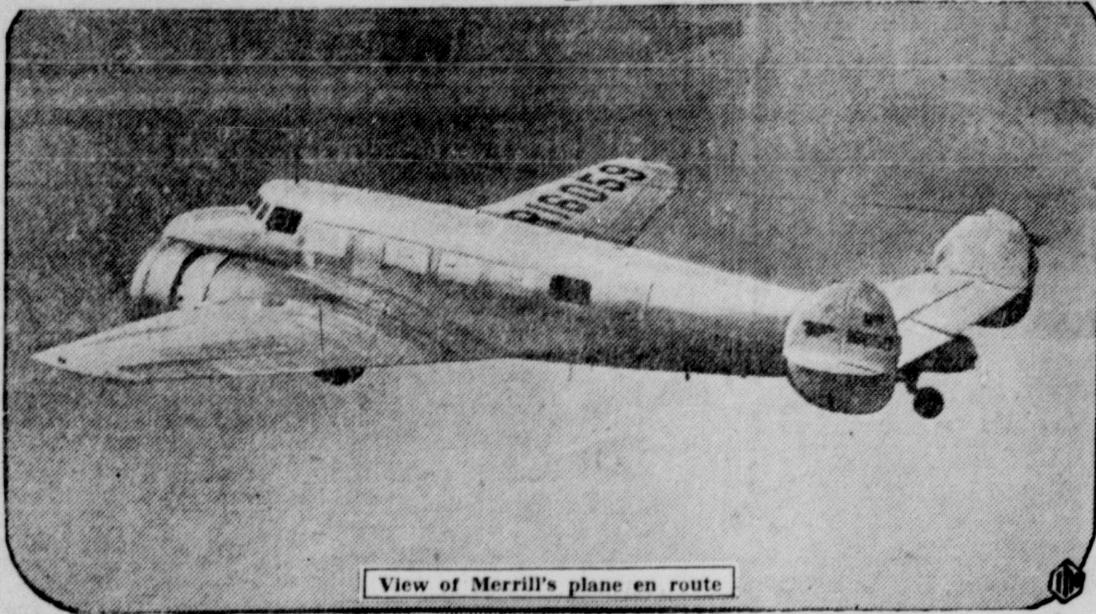

One answer in the test said: "Profits earned by a company and paid out to stockholders are called share-croppers."

Zero Grade For 198
Out of the small army that took the test, 514 made grades of between 95 and 100. A total of 238 of this number were high school seniors. Grades of from zero to five were given 192 students and of this group 133 were seventh grade pupils.

The national average for high school seniors was 73 per cent. Averages for other grades were: eleventh grade, 66; tenth grade, 57; ninth grade, 51; eighth grade, 43; and seventh grade, 34.

the examinations, Sayre said:

"The 'boners' are humorous in themselves but reflect a serious fault in our school system. Many schools are failing to prepare their students for good citizenship. High school pupils without a good knowledge of current social trends, issues and personalities cannot be expected to contribute strength to our democracy."
